When reporting an odor or other concern, the following will assist the above parties in responding to your concerns:

1. Your name, address, contact phone and/or email
2. Detailed description of the odor (with comparison to something real - fishy, trash, sewage, rotten egg, etc.). Subjective words such as horrible, obnoxious, etc. should be avoided.
3. Specific date and time of day when the odor was present
4. Weather conditions (temperature, humidity, precipitation, etc.)
5. Persistence of odor, if applicable.
6. If applicable, what affect are you experiencing?

*Note - Be advised that any or all of the parties listed above may contact you and/or come to your address to try to experience the odor you are reporting. Therefore, it is essential to report in real time as much as possible. In many cases, this is vital to being able to narrow down a concern.
